Ohio GOP Is Mum As O'Neill OKs Union Shop Ban

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill's endorsement of a proposal to ban union shops in Ohio has brought no definite reaction from Republican ranks.

The proposal is in the form of an amendment to the Ohio Constitution. If approved at the Nov. 4 election, it would end the requirement, now in effect in some places, that an employee join the union after working for a certain length of time, or forfeit his job.

In announcing his stand at a press conference late Monday, O'Neill stressed that it is entirely personal, adding that others should make up their own minds.

He will not campaign directly for the proposal, he went on, but may express his views on the issue as his campaign for re-election to a four-year term progresses.

Ray C. Bliss, Republican state chairman, immediately issued a statement saying members of the state GOP committee have not officially taken any position on the proposal.

It will be up to delegates and the platform committee at the Ohio GOP convention to decide if a plank calling for the union shop ban will be in the party's platform, Bliss added.

O'Neill said he won't press for such a plank when the convention gets under way in about two weeks.

Republican Sen. John W. Bricker, also running for re-election, was aware of O'Neill's decision before Monday's announcement, the governor said.

Although he knows what Bricker's position will be, O'Neill went on, that information must come from the senator.

Bricker's administrative assistant, John M. McElroy of Columbus, said Bricker intends to make his views known in a major speech on labor in October.

Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, O'Neill's Democratic opponent, announced personal opposition to the proposal several weeks ago.

Speaking in Canton Monday night, he repeated his contention that abuses in labor unions can be corrected only by specific legislation, and that he has proposed such corrective legislation.

The issue (ban of union shops) can now be removed from the campaign, inasmuch as it will be decided by the voters in November, DiSalle declared.

Speaking for supporters of the suggested amendment, Elton Kile praised O'Neill for "keen insight into the real problem faced by rank and file members of labor unions and by industry."

Kile, chairman of the Right to Work Campaign Committee, said in a statement: "The right-to-work amendment will effect the return of the control of unions to the members, and rid corrupt unions of racketeers and thieves."

But opponents of the proposal asserted the governor has mistaken it for an anti-corruption measure. Elmer Cope, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio AFL-CIO, said:

"Ohio is the first state in the nation where the backers of the so-called right-to-work amendment have attempted to link it with corruption. This is sheer opportunism."

"Apparently Gov. O'Neill has swallowed the big lie that these two issues are connected. . . ."

Evangelist Held After $5,000 Check Bounces

CINCINNATI (AP)—A message from Philadelphia postal officials sent police to a bank here Monday to arrest a wandering evangelist who had deposited a $5,000 check. Officers said Michael F. George, 47, of Herrod, Ill., told them some woman gave him the check last Thursday after he preached in the Assembly of God Glad Tidings Church, Bellevue, Ky.

But officials of the bank where he deposited it next day checked with the Philadelphia bank on which the check was drawn, and learned a number of forged checks had been drawn on that account after a theft from the mails.

George said he was ordained into the ministry by what he called the World Church in Los Angeles. And he said he served a term in a Washington state prison for check forgery.

Is Khrush Trying To Stir Up War Between U. S., China?

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

Is Nikita Khrushchev trying to work things so as to embroil the United States and Communist China in a war?

Such a war—in which the Soviet Union stayed on the sidelines—would offer many advantages to the Kremlin. It would acquire a decisive position in world affairs in which they might dictate conditions to both the United States and Communist China eventually.

Here's the way Khrushchev could be planning to work this:

He would promise Red China's Mao Tse-tung that the Soviet Union will declare war on the United States if the United States attacks Communist China in reply to an attempt by Communist China to take Quemoy, Matsu or Formosa itself. On the strength of this assurance Mao might launch such an assault and the United States probably would reply with force.

Well, Doggone . . . or Is It

"CAN YOU IMAGINE that somebody abandoned me, and especially since this is National Dog Week when people are supposed to be extra kind to us of the canine world?" That is what seems to be puzzling the white boxer (above) who was left in the back seat of Leo Fisher's car while it was parked on W. Court St. Monday night. Fisher reported the dog to the police, but they did not know to whom it belonged or where it came from. Tuesday noon, Fisher still had the dog and was looking for the owner or somebody who might want her. There was no identification on the white boxer, a rare color for this breed. A piece of clothesline was tied to a collar, with license tag around her neck.

In GOP, Signs of Relief

Gruenther Tipped To Replace Adams

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther stands today atop the list of prospects to succeed Sherman Adams as the man closest to the throne in the Eisenhower administration.

While millions watched via television with varying emotions, Adams bowed out Monday night.

Gruenther, who has served as President Eisenhower's good right arm before, now is president of the American Red Cross.

Still insisting "I have done no wrong," the presidential assistant yielded to renewed pressure from Republican candidates and continuing criticism from Democrats of his relations with Bernard Goldfine, the Boston millionaire and long-time friend from whom he acknowledged receiving gifts.

Announcing his resignation in a 10-minute nationwide radio-TV appearance, President Eisenhower's top aide said, "I must give full consideration to the effect of my continuing presence on the public scene."

But political controversy boiled unabated over the "corruption" issue, and much of the comment indicated a belief Adams had acted too late to remove it from the November election campaign.

Adams gave his listeners no hint how quickly the "orderly process" of his resignation would take him from his watchdog quarters next to Eisenhower's White House office.

Eisenhower accepted Adams' resignation "with sadness," but the President's chagrin at Adams' self-imposed fadeout obviously was not shared by Republican congressional candidates. They breathed sighs of relief.

The Democrats asked for time—probably to be taken by National Chairman Paul M. Butler—to reply to Adams' statement that to stay on "might possibly diminish the chances which my party has of regaining control of the Congress in the November election."

The Democrats will get 10 minutes on the Mutual Broadcasting System tonight—the same 10-minute period granted Adams. The network said it has made available the period, beginning at 5:35 p.m. (EST), in response to a formal request from Butler.

Licking his lips occasionally in his only show of nervousness, Adams said "a calculated and contrived effort" had been made to discredit him.

"A campaign of vilification by those who seek personal advantage by my removal from public life has continued up to this very moment," he said, raising his eyes to look squarely into the television cameras. "These efforts, it is now clear, have been intended to destroy me and in so doing to embarrass the administration and the President of the United States."

Adams did not say who initiated these attacks. Most of the demands for his resignation have come from members of his own party. Democrats generally have remained silent on this aspect of the controversy.

Time Bomb Discovered Hidden in Eiffel Tower

Paris Terrorist Act Suspected

Explosion Sufficient To Blast Off Top

PARIS (AP)—Police today discovered a crude time bomb hidden atop the famed Eiffel Tower visited by thousands of tourists annually.

The bomb contained about five pounds of dynamite, police said, and was powerful enough to have blown off the entire top framework which consists mainly of recently added television installations.

The bomb was discovered as the French police force redoubled efforts to stem the wave of Algerian Nationalist terrorism sweeping France on the eve of a new constitutional referendum asked by Premier Charles de Gaulle.

Only this morning France's worldwide airline, Air France, ordered its representatives throughout the world to search all freight put aboard its airliners to prevent any possible sabotage.

The bomb was found in the public toilet at the top observatory platform of the famed structure which is about 1,000 feet high. The platform is about 100 feet from the top of the tower.

Police said the bomb consisted also of an electric battery and an alarm clock. The device was set for 7 o'clock, but the clock had stopped.

Police did not know if it had been set to go off at 7 a.m., when the platform would have been empty, or 7 o'clock tonight when it would have been crowded.

The bomb was immediately brought down by special police who were called in.

Earlier submachineguns chattered in a vacant lot in the Aubervilliers section of Paris near the municipal slaughterhouse.

At Metz in eastern France about the same time, an Algerian fired three bullets at a French noncommissioned army officer.

The soldier crumpled into the street, dead.

Across the Mediterranean in war-weary Algeria, authorities said French soldiers came across the mass grave of between 400 and 500 Algerian nationalist rebels.

An official French announcement Monday night said notes found with the bodies proved they were slain by their former comrades in arms for threatening to abandon the four-year-old rebellion. They all belonged to a rebel unit led by a Col. Amirouche, the French said.

Sir Lancelot Fails To Win Back His Lady

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—Sir Lancelot's attempt to win back Gwenivere failed Monday, despite a white horse.

James C. Hamm and his wife, Ruth, called each other Lancelot and Gwenivere in the early days of their marriage 20 years ago.

Mrs. Hamm filed for divorce from the 42-year-old real estate broker Sept. 2, leaving their home at nearby Belvedere with their two children.

Hamm rode a white horse down the main street of this San Francisco suburb and hitched it to a parking meter while he entered the Albert building to meet his wife and her attorney.

The horse bore a cardboard shield reading: "Sir Lancelot's white charger. Gwenivere, I love you."

Gwenivere didn't see the white charger—she entered and left the building by a rear door—and she went on to Superior Court and asked for temporary alimony and child support.

Lancelot wasn't so chivalrous last July, she testified, saying he kicked her in the stomach.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori awarded her $375 a month and custody of the children. Hamm telephoned the stable to come after the horse.

Judge Case Asks Appeals Court To Restrain, Sentence Ex-Lawyer

Common Pleas Judge John P. Case Tuesday asked the Second District Court of Appeals for a permanent injunction against disbarred attorney J. Harvey Crow, Urbana, restraining him from "continuing to engage in the unauthorized practice of law" and also asked maximum imprisonment for Crow as punishment for contempt of court.

In answers and cross-petitions to mandamus actions which Crow filed against the Fayette County jurist in the appellate court last week, Judge Case also asks contempt judgments and sentence against Mrs. Beverly Clickner Walls and William Tumbleson, common Pleas Court litigants in whose suits Crow has stated he has acquired financial interests.

Punishment for contempt is at the discretion of the Court of Appeals.

CROW, disbarred on May 13, 1955, by a three-judge court of which Judge Case was a member, had asked the Court of Appeals that Judge Case be required to reinstate separate civil damage actions brought by Mrs. Walls and Tumbleson. These suits, involving damage claims totaling $137,350, were dismissed by Judge Case early this month for lack of prosecution.

Gen. Chehab Sworn In as Lebanon Chief

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Gen. Fuad Chehab was sworn in today as the third president of independent Lebanon and immediately pledged the withdrawal of American troops.

Chehab was elected by nearly all factions of Parliament July 31 as a compromise choice to end the political tension which erupted into open rebellion more than four months ago.

American Marines and Army troops began arriving here July 15 in response to the call of Chehab's predecessor, President Camille Chamoun, who charged that Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic was attempting to overthrow Chamoun's pro-Western regime.

Shooting again broke out in Beirut Monday night on the eve of the inauguration, and tension again climbed after a lull since Chehab's election. A curfew around the clock was in force as a result of mass kidnappings by political factions.

Ike Shuns Responsibility On Integration, Is Claim

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Gov. Frank Clement today accused President Eisenhower of "not meeting his responsibilities" in the integration crisis and said he should be here instead of vacationing.

"This nation," said the Tennessee governor at a press conference prior to the second session of the Southern Governors Conference, "is faced with its most serious domestic problem since the Civil War. And yet the President is up in Newport with Sherman Adams trying to decide how Adams should bow out."

Clement said the President, to his knowledge was not invited to the conference here, but added "he shouldn't wait for an invitation."

Meanwhile, youngsters in Virginia and Arkansas played active parts in the integration crisis.

High school pupils in Norfolk and Charlottesville, Va., signed petitions urging that their public schools be opened so they could get an education.

Eight Negroes re-entered Van Buren, Ark., High School and three others returned to the nearby junior high amid only minor demonstrations. They had been out for about two weeks because of a temporary boycott by white pupils.

In Little Rock, about 200 shouting teen-agers demonstrated in front of the governor's mansion, principal John Trace was the defendant in the Walls suit for $100,000 while W. P. Noble, Bloomington, was the defendant in the Tumbleson action for $37,350. Both suits alleged malicious prosecution.

Formosa Strait Crisis Getting Close Study

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek and Adm. Harry D. Felt discussed the Formosa Strait crisis today as the Communist threat to the offshore islands went into a second tense month.

The President of Nationalist China and the commander in chief of U.S. forces in the Pacific were believed to have considered ways of getting more supplies to the besieged Quemoy.

Continuing strong Nationalist demands for U.S. support in aerial attacks on the mainland gun positions presumably were voiced at the three-hour meeting. American officers have restrained such action for fear of spreading the vest pocket war.

The Nationalists said another supply convoy got through to Quemoy and more supplies were parachuted to Little Quemoy. With the Communist bombardment continuing, however, the supply situation on the little islands remained tight.

The Defense Ministry said the Communists hurled 5,831 shells at the islands in the last six hours Monday, the last day of a full month's bombardment. Since Aug. 23, about 325,000 have been fired the Nationalist estimated.

The Nationalists have reported 280 military casualties among the 100,000 soldiers on the Quemoy plus 63 civilians killed and 159 wounded by shells.

The Defense Ministry claims 14 Communist MIG jet fighters shot down plus 3 probables without the loss of a Nationalist jet; and 7 Communist gunboats, 11 torpedo boats and 8 motorized junks sunk at the cost of 3 Nationalist landing ships.

These figures were reviewed here as Adm. Felt met with Chiang in the President's Taipei headquarters. Since the admiral's arrival on Formosa Saturday for a five-day visit, he has conferred with the ranking U.S. officers here and with Nationalist military leaders.

Ohioan's Pie Wins $25,000

Delaware Woman Cops National Bake Test

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Don de Vault, 36-year-old Delaware, Ohio housewife, today won the $25,000 first prize in a national baking contest with a new version of that all-time favorite—apple pie.

She called her creation "spicy apple twists." In addition to putting apple pie into a new form with both taste and eye appeal, she halved the cooking time.

Her apple twists bake in 20 to 25 minutes, compared with 45 minutes to an hour for the time-honored variety of dessert.

The apple twists are made from strips of flaky pastry twisted around quartered apples, then brushed generously with butter and sprinkled with cinnamon and sugar. When done, they look like small eclairs.

The 10th annual bake-off was sponsored by the Pillsbury Flour Mills.

Mrs. De Vault, of 177 North Washington St., Delaware, Ohio, is the mother of two young sons and wife of a real estate man.

Final competition from winners in various states was held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Mrs. De Vault was presented her award by Irene Dunne, actress and recent delegate to the United Nations.

Despite her success with the apple twist recipe, Mrs. De Vault said it isn't the favorite with her husband and two boys—they like chocolate cake the best.

Prizes in other divisions of the baking contest included:

Seniors: Mrs. Magdalena Slavik, 608 Helper Dr., Bedford, Ohio, $2,000 for "Golden Empire Torte," and Mrs. Mary Police, 416 Front Ave., S.E., New Philadelphia, Ohio, $1,000 for "Strawberry Pie Delicious."

Carl W. Justice, 36, Columbus, forfeited a $20 bond on a charge of driving 47 mph in a 35 mph zone.

Sabina Voting Tuesday on Sewer Issue

SABINA — A total of 147 had voted here by noon Tuesday in the special election to decide whether Sabina residents want a sanitary sewer system.

The polls opened at 6:30 a. m. and will close at 6:30 p. m. There are three voting places in the village. Precinct officials predicted that voting probably would be heavier in the afternoon and early evening after the factories and businesses close.

A majority "yes" vote will, in effect, give the village council the green light to proceed with plans for the construction of a sanitary sewer system and a sewage treatment plant at a cost of $667,000. A majority "no" vote will halt the program.

Of the total cost, $200,000 would be raised from mortgage revenue bonds. The remainder would come from the money received from the sale of the village's power plant to the Dayton Power & Light Co. and from an indicated federal grant.

The plan which was launched by action of council, was blocked by a referendum petition, precipitating today's special election.

Bloomington Lions Hear Dusty Miller

BLOOMINGTON—An impromptu program featured the after-dinner meeting of the Bloomington Lions Club Monday night at the school here.

Congressman James G. Polk was to have been the speaker, but a recent illness caused him to cancel his engagement. However, at the last minute the Lions secured Dusty Miller, a lecturer and newspaperman from Wilmington, to speak.

Also on the program, were four candidates for county offices, each of whom gave three-minute talks on non-political subjects. The theme of the meeting was government.

Miller, with his wit and story telling, entertained the Lions by telling of personal experiences and also by commenting on government and freedom.

The other speakers were County Commissioner Cliff Hughes, Auditor Harry Allen, Virtus Kruse, Democratic candidate for state representative, and Omar Schwartz, Republican candidate for state representative. These men did not talk on politics, but on government in general.

Other guests at the meeting were Treasurer Charles Fabb and Democratic Central Committee Chairman Robert Wise.

Judge Case Asks

tions appearing on the docket of the Court of Appeals which, he says, were initiated, prepared and filed by Crow during this month.

Judge Case also contends that Crow "conspired" with attorney Charles E. Carter of Springfield to "accomplish the filing and docketing" of an appeal made by Joseph Earl Gardner, convicted and imprisoned rapist, that he "controlled and directed the conduct" of attorney Charles F. Buck, Dayton, in the Walls case, and that there was conspiracy with Mrs. Walls and Tumbleton in Crow's association with these cases.

He also states that Crow, while under disbarment, appeared for Mrs. Walls and examined a witness in her behalf in taking a deposition in the Common Pleas court room, although not in the presence of the judge himself.

BECAUSE of these alleged incidents, Judge Case, contends that "a contemptuous fraud was committed and practiced upon and in the presence of" the Court of Appeals and the Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

Judge Case holds that because of "contemptuous acts and unauthorized practice of law", Crow should be held in contempt in the presence of the appellate court and should be imprisoned for the maximum period allowable by law.

He also asks maximum contempt sentences for Mrs. Walls and Tumbleton and asks that the costs in prosecution of the actions be levied against the three.

Stock Mart Decline Halts; Trading Active

NEW YORK (AP)—An initial decline was halted as the stock market turned irregular in active trading early this afternoon.

Gains and losses of leading issues went from fractions to about a point.

Motors were briskly traded and the major producers were slightly lower. Studebaker-Packard continued an uptrend in active dealings.

Rails, rubbers and radio-televisions also were on the downside. Drugs, oils and most chemicals were higher. Nonferrous metals and aircraft were mixed.

The general economic background remained favorable. Orders for machine tools were picking up and another price boost for copper was announced by a big Belgian producer.

Chrysler showed a small minus sign as labor talks continued at Detroit. General Motors eased. Small losses were shown also by Ford and American Motors.

American Telephone rose more than 2 points, Pfizer close to 2 and Allied Chemical more than a point.

Zenith stemmed a decline and was ahead more than a point. International Salt, on a few sales, dropped about 4.

Chance-Vought and Baltimore & Ohio rose around a point.

Government bonds were narrowly mixed.

Christian Union Church Here To Observe 50th Anniversary

CHARLES W. WARE Minister of the Church
ROBERT HARPER Sunday School Superintendent
RAY HAWK First Elder of Church

Fifty years ago, the first service was held in the Church of Christ in Christian Union on Gregg St. This week, its golden anniversary is being observed with special services. These services, which will start Wednesday, will come to the climax on Sunday.

The Rev. Charles W. Ware is pastor of the church. Ray Hawk is the first elder and Robert Harper is the Sunday School superintendent.

The Rev. Mr. Ware will deliver the final service of the anniversary observance Sunday night. This service will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Four former pastors of the church will speak at the services on the four nights preceding the concluding service Sunday: the Rev. H. C. Leeth on Wednesday; the Rev. O. L. Ferguson on Thursday; the Rev. Arthur George on Friday and the Rev. Russell Knisley on Saturday. All of these services will start at 8 p. m.

Special music will be provided throughout the anniversary observance by the Christian Four, a vocal quartet from Columbus.

On the final day there will be a Sunday School rally at 9:30 a. m. with the morning worship service at 10:45 a. m.

Sunday afternoon, the Rev. C. C. Johnson, general superintendent of Churches of Christ in Christian Union, will deliver a special message.

FEW CHURCHES anywhere are more active than the Church of Christ in Christian Union here.

But it was not always like that; like most churches, it had its struggles in its youth and only the determination of the faithful carried it through those trying years.

The church building was started in 1906, but it was not until two years later, in 1908, that it was completed and the first service held in it. For several years before that, however, the services were held in private homes.

The church is not an old church, as churches in Washington C. H. go, and neither is it a wealthy church, but its members and the congregation are loyal.

When it was certain that the church was here to stay and there was no place for the growing congregation to worship, plans for a church building were laid.

Undiscouraged by obstacles and with infinite faith, its followers bought the materials with what money they could raise and, with their own hands, started the building in 1902 and finished it two years later.

34 Now Enrolled In Special Course

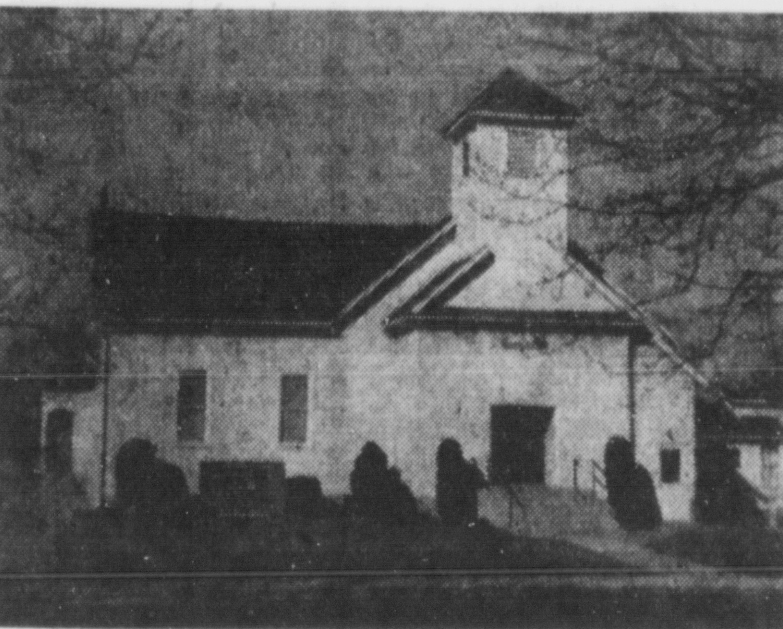

Edward R. Penson, assistant professor of dramatic art and speech at Ohio University, will conduct the extension course to be offered for 15 Tuesdays at Washington C. H. High School, Superintendent W. A. Smith of the city schools said.

He said Tuesday that 34 had enrolled for the course with 22 from the city schools and 12 outside including several from Greenfield. Those who want to enter can still sign up for the course Tuesday night.

The course, "Speech Correction" is primarily for classroom teachers and it carries three semester hours of credit. It will deal with the nature, causes and treatments of defective speech, with the special role of the classroom in correction.

Most of Ohio Ford Plants Still Struck

CLEVELAND (AP) — Workers at Ford Motor Co. plants in Canton and Lima returned to work today, but a United Auto Workers strike over local issues continued for more than three-fourths of Ford's Ohio employees.

Monday night the Lima engine plant, employing 881 hourly workers, and the Canton forge plant, which has 782, agreed to end the walkout which started with a national strike last Wednesday.

At both places, settlement was reached on local issues to supplement the master agreement negotiated in Detroit a few hours after the strike began.

The Lorain assembly plant settled its local issues Friday, and 1,147 employees there went back to work Sunday midnight.

Two big Ford locals in Cleveland held long negotiating sessions Monday on such issues as overtime, seniority, health and safety and job classification. Local 420, representing 2,705 hourly workers at the Walton Hills stamping plant, reported some progress in a 7½-hour bargaining session lasting into the night.

Local 1250, which represents 6,320 workers at two engine plants and a foundry in Brook Park, also is in negotiations.

In addition to the Cleveland plants, 3,500 hourly workers at the Cincinnati transmission plant and 1,400 at the Sandusky hardware plant continue on strike.

The other meetings are scheduled for Jan. 14 and March 18.

CRAIG'S

Farmers Like Idea of Free Enterprise

Agriculture and agricultural thinking play an important part in Fayette County's general economy, and the public is glad to learn from some of the farmers of this community that there is substantial agreement among local rural leaders that the recently adjourned Congress, in its thinking regarding farm legislation, seemed to be making some progress.

Many members of Congress seem to be moving in the general direction of allowing price, rather than government's edicts, to guide farmers' decisions.

One farm writer was quoted approvingly by one of the local farmers recently as saying, "Some of the sacred cows die hard, but the facts of life cannot be denied".

He was referring to the fact that many agriculturists do not favor so much government control, particularly when so many congressmen supported rigid 90 per cent supports. "You'll find fewer and fewer farmers thinking that way," one of the leading Fayette County farmers said. Consumers are partly responsible for this attitude and probably farmers themselves had even more to do with the changing ideas of Congress. Most men in the active farm industry never wholeheartedly liked the idea of increasing government control and extensive support for farming. A great many of those who once felt it was necessary have become somewhat disillusioned as to the equitable effectiveness of government control programs.

It has been pointed out frequently in recent years that some of the most successful farming operations, measured by results over the "long pull", have been free of government control. The livestock industry is an outstanding example of this. Most livestock people vigorously opposed government supports and the bureaucratic domination that almost inevitably accompanied them, even in times of extremely low prices. They wanted to keep their independence and to make their own decisions.

Most farmers, here and elsewhere, favor the idea of free enterprise and like to practice it.

An Irishman Responsible?

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Lost in the maw of history is the startling fact that an Irishman discovered Iceland.

The present natives don't even remember his name. But when the first Vikings hit these misty shores, they found a Paddy in port.

He was a hermit, and how he reached this off-beat, volcanic, lava-laden land of gorgeous sunsets, strong winds and fishy waters, nobody seems to know.

The theory is irresistible, however, that the original Irishman must be responsible for the always delightful, sometimes crazy, generally surrealistic behavior of a large number of the island's 165,000 inhabitants.

Iceland is a High North country, but it's hospitality is Deep South.

When people invite you to their homes at 2 o'clock in the morning they expect you to come and enjoy yourself.

And when you apologize to your friend's wife for invading her house with the dawn, she looks puzzled and replies:

"I don't think you understand. This is Iceland. You're welcome at any hour."

Then she floats into her modern kitchen — dishwashers, washing machines, electric driers and toasters are as common as cod in Iceland — and whips up a dream of a dish. It's not fashioned from whale blubber, either.

Icelandic parties are puzzlers. One of the reasons is the extremely unique system of peoples' names.

Less than 100 families have family monikers. The rest of the people are known by their fathers' first names.

It can be startling to have your host say, "I'm Magnus Jonsson. This is my wife, Helga Olafsdottir."

"How do you do, Mrs. Jonsson?"

"Fine, but I'm not Mrs. Jonsson. I'm Helga Olafsdottir."

"But Mr. Jonsson is your husband?"

"He's my husband, but he's really not Mr. Jonsson. He's Magnus, the son of Jon, or Magnus Jonsson."

"But why aren't you Helga Jonsson?"

"Because my father was Olaf. I'm Helga, the daughter of Olaf, or Helga Olafsdottir."

"And your son? What's his name?"

"He's Benedikt Magnusson."

"Not Benedikt Jonsson?"

"Of course not. His father, my husband, is Jon's son, or Jonsson. He—our boy—he's Magnus' son, which makes him Benedikt Magnusson."

"And your daughter?"

"She's Inga Magnusdottir. It's all so simple."

"I look at it this way... I'm not losing a daughter, I'm gaining a telephone."

Diet and Health Fluoridation Is Safe Medical Experts Say

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

I THOUGHT all the controversy over fluoridation had died down long ago. Every once in a while I receive an inquiry as to whether fluoridation is "safe."

Let me answer this query for once and for all. In my opinion, and in the opinion of the American Dental Association, the World Health Organization and doctors, dentists and medical and dental societies the world over, fluoridation is safe.

In Operation Today approximately 32,500,000 Americans are drinking fluoridated water. Fluoridation is in operation in 1,339 U. S. cities and towns.

Outside the United States, fluoridation programs are currently in operation in communities in Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Columbia, El Salvador, Germany, Great Britain, Japan, Malaya, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Panama Canal Zone, Sweden and Venezuela. Norway and Switzerland plan to start fluoridation programs soon.

If fluoridation were not safe, not valuable, would so many nations be using it?

Unanimously Endorsed An international committee of scientists of the World Health Organization delved into the matter of fluoridation thoroughly. The members of this committee unanimously endorsed water fluoridation, stating:

"The effectiveness, safety and practicability of fluoridation as a means of preventing dental caries (decay), one of the most prevalent and widespread diseases in the world, is now established." This report was signed by health experts from the United States, Great Britain, Sweden, Brazil and India.

Editorial Comment

Commenting on this report editorially, the Journal of the American Dental Association said:

"In the light of the overwhelming mass of favorable evidence collected from world-wide sources, on which the World Health Organization authorities based their favorable opinion, it seems incredible in this enlightened age, that any community favored with public water supply logically could withhold from its children the benefits of fluoridation."

The ADA Journal added that the findings of these researchers constitute "a great guarantee of safety, a body of evidence without precedence in public health procedures."

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Q. What precautionary measures should be taken while traveling extensively with children to avoid their contracting communicable diseases?

A. For those diseases for which immunizations are available, the acquisition of full immunity is advisable and adequate boosters should be obtained before travelling. Care should be exercised in drinking water from unsupervised sources as well as in the management of one's diet.

2 Catholic Groups Wind Up Parleys

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mass was celebrated today in what is normally one of the main dining rooms of a downtown hotel, and the 44th annual meeting of the National Conference of Catholic charities ended.

Also ending today was the annual meeting of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, held jointly with the charities conference.

On the agenda today were discussions of problems and programs with the aging, working with the blind, and the regular workshops.

Cleveland Kills Wife, 2 Sons, Self

CLEVELAND (AP)—At about midnight Monday two policemen crawled through the milk chute of a darkened, two-story brick colonial house in suburban Shaker Heights.

In the master bedroom on the second floor they found neatly arranged on a bed, face up, the bodies of Mrs. Matilda Wein, 38, and her sons, Robert, 4, and Neal, 8.

In the bathroom nearby, hanging by a clothes line tied to the shower nozzle and curtain rod, was the body of the head of the family, Harry Wein, 41, a salesman-distributor for a firm that markets gummed tape and other packaging products.

Marks on the necks of the woman and two boys indicated they had been strangled by Wein, who then hanged himself, Detective Edward Havel said.

All the bodies were fully clothed, making it unlikely that the slayings took place after the children had retired. There was no sign of struggle or disarray within the house, Havel said.

A neighbor said the children were playing with a wagon in the yard at about 5 p.m. An uncooked chicken was on the kitchen table.

No notes were found, and detectives worked today to establish a motive. The Weins had moved into the house Sept. 1 from another part of Shaker Heights, so the immediate neighbors knew little about them.

Ohio Polio Season Said Near Peak

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio probably has reached the peak of the polio season.

Dr. Frederick Wentworth, chief of the division of communicable diseases, said today that last week, 46 new polio cases were reported to bring the total for the year to 182, five less than for the same period in 1957. During the corresponding week last year, only 16 cases were reported.

Dr. Wentworth said the peak of the polio season is coming later this year than in previous years. He predicted a decrease in weekly reports of cases will begin soon.

Polio has killed 8 persons in Ohio this year. In only one case did a victim receive immunization. Seven persons received a full course of shots and seven others a partial course.

Only a Few Red Students Doubt Soviet Government

Editor's Note—The Soviet Union is still a land of mystery to most Americans, but some U. S. exchange students have been given the opportunity to see it first-hand. Beverly Deepe, a 23-year-old Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of Nebraska just back from there, introduces some Soviet students in this first of four articles on her experiences in the Soviet Union and the satellite countries.

By BEVERLY DEEPE
Written for The Associated Press

It was a rare invitation—and I accepted promptly. Not every day does a Soviet student ask an American girl to his home.

At the set hour, Ivan appeared at my living quarters. We left without being seen by guards, evaded two pairs of "big ears" which followed us and finally we slipped into a courtyard filled with trees and grape arbors adjoining Ivan's one room and kitchen unit.

Inside, several of his friends were waiting to meet me. In the center of the room stood a table covered with worn oilcloth. The walls were ringed with a refrigerator four feet high, a cot, a sofa, a bookcase, a dish cupboard, a tape recorder and a short wave radio.

Someone flicked on the radio and brought in the Voice of America. Elvis Presley wailed out in deafening volume—and for a moment I thought I was back in the United States instead of an exchange student in the U.S.S.R.

After urging by his friends, Ivan asked me to jitterbug. It was a new style for me—with jerky arm motions and uncertain steps. "We aren't supposed to dance the rock 'n' roll," he said, "but everybody does in his home."

Then we started talking, and from the Russians came a barrage of questions.

"Do you like classical or progressive jazz best? I like Louis Armstrong."

"What American authors are the most popular now? Faulkner will be translated here this fall."

The students said Jack London, Theodore Dreiser and Mark Twain were the American authors most read in the Soviet Union. Some of the works of Hemingway and Steinbeck are available.

Then Ivan's friends left and he leaned toward me. "What really happened in Hungary?" he whispered.

I started to answer, but one student came back. Ivan quickly changed the subject.

Ivan was one young Russian apparently willing to express doubts about Soviet standards of truth. But in my experience he was an exception. Only on rare occasions will Soviet students—even in private conversation—unveil dissatisfaction with their country. Then it concerns mainly the shortage of consumer goods.

Usually the Russians quizzed furiously. But when they were present in large numbers the questions were almost always argumentative: "What are your troops doing in Lebanon? Why is there racial discrimination in the United States? Why do you have unemployment?"

Other than Ivan's interrupted query about Hungary, the most pungent expression of disrespect for the system came when one of the Americans asked a Russian what he thought of Komsomol, the young Communist League.

"Well, I think you have an expression, pain where you sit down," he answered in broken English.

While dissatisfaction with communism appeared rare in the Soviet Union, the reverse seemed to be true among students in Poland.

There I found that students work under far less control. They don't ask about jazz; they take you to a student dance where U. S. hep-cats could find their match. They don't ask about modern art; colorful and modernistic advertising posters enliven billboards and walls.

In fact, a Polish student has much more to tell than ask. One Pole made numerous anti-Soviet remarks to me and accused Poland's leader, Wladyslaw Gomulka, of "fouling up," especially in handling church-state relations.

He pulled out a copy of Pravda, flipped the pages and said: "Look, it says nothing here but 'keep smiling.'" Then he showed me a

Polish student newspaper which is free to print such Polish quotations as "Poles are not geese, they have their own tongue" or "Freedom means as much as life."

But he shook his head. "We have no hope of being independent; the Soviet Union is too close and too big. They have troops in the Warsaw suburbs."

"But what can Poland do?" I asked.

"Just keep smiling," he replied. Later, I noticed how a Polish newspaper phrased the thought: "He who laughs lasts."

The Polish student dropped his smile and looked at me intently. "You've been to Soviet Union," he said. "Tell me, which is stronger—Russia or the United States? This is the big question the Poles are asking."

53 More Autos In Country in 1957 Than in 1956

The motor vehicle population of Fayette County jumped 53 during 1957, according to George C. Braden, state registrar of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles. This was in line with the state increase.

There were 12,384 motor vehicles in the entire county, including Washington C. H., last year compared to 12,231 in 1956. The number in Washington C. H. increased from 5,514 to 5,603. In the county outside of the municipalities there were 5,951 last year compared to the 5,514 in the year before.

Figures for the other municipalities in 1957 (with those for 1956 in parentheses) are: Bloomingburg 302 (316); Jeffersonville 390 (370); Milledgeville (103) 117; New Holland 12 (26); Octa 23 (22).

The motor vehicle population for the state was 4,066,196 in 1957 an increase of 116,000 over the 1956 total of 3,950,196.

Nonprofit List To Be Bared By Tax Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service said today it will open its files Nov. 3 to disclose all approved applications for income tax exemptions granted nonprofit educational, charitable and religious organizations.

The action will be taken under a new law which permits the service to make public the applications together with its reasons for granting the exemption.

A revenue service spokesman said both the agency and the Treasury Department favored the change. He said the agency often has been asked by Congress members and others for an explanation of its actions on exemption applications, but has been barred by law from giving one.

There has been debate in Congress over tax exemptions granted a number of organizations including the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and the Fund for the Republic.

All approved applications will be available for public inspection, together with any papers submitted in support of them. Provision is made for withholding supporting documents which might disclose defense or trade secrets or other information that would adversely affect the organization.

Integration Issue Splits Dixie Chiefs

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Southern governors were confronted today with confusion and conflict over a positive stand, for the record, on integrating schools.

At least two governors have said they will introduce opposing resolutions for consideration at their annual conference.

A formal expression on integration emerged as an issue when Republican Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland proposed a resolution which, in effect, would put Dixie governors on record as favoring it.

Georgia's Democratic Gov. Marvin Griffin came back with a proposal urging the conference to protect the government "of the several states against all federal encroachment."

There was no indication when and if these resolutions actually would come up for a vote of the 14 governors attending the conference.

But one of them, Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky, foresaw no chance of a majority agreeing one way or the other on integration.

The South's most burning issue, absent from the business agenda, got hotter Monday when Gov. Elroy Collins of Florida said it should be resolved by Congress as the first order of business next January.

Collins told the opening business session the current pattern of integration conflict, if continued, could lead to a national catastrophe.

Elaborating at a news conference, he said President Eisenhower could organize commissions of local citizens with authority to resolve the problem at that level. He said federal courts "simply are not equipped to determine local problems."

"When integration injures racial relations," he said, "I don't think it should be coerced upon any community."

One function is his proposed commissions, Collins said, could be to serve in an advisory capacity to the courts.

Meanwhile, Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus said he expects to reopen Little Rock schools next Monday, or possibly later in the week, after a city vote on the question of admitting Negroes to the schools.

Faubus, who wants the schools to operate on a private, segregated basis, said: "We don't anticipate any legal difficulty, but there could be litigation brought by the federal government. If they want to tie everything up and keep the schools closed further, that will be their responsibility."

Faubus closed Little Rock schools after the U.S. Supreme Court refused to grant a 30-month delay for enrolling Negroes in them.

This TOO is Texas Eastern

Shipping petroleum products from Gulf Coast to Midwest

The Little Big Inch Division of Texas Eastern is a common-carrier of petroleum products. Its 1800-mile system links Gulf Coast, Ark-La-Tex and Mid-Continent refineries with steadily growing markets in 13 states.

Refined petroleum products, such as aviation and motor gasoline . . . jet and tractor fuels . . . heating and burner oils and liquefied butane and propane, move through the line from points as far south as Sweeney, Baytown and Beaumont, Texas, to points as far north as Chicago and as far east as Lebanon, Ohio.

The completion, last month, of the 1,100,000-barrel terminal at Lebanon, Ohio, marked the ninth storage point placed into service along the Little Big Inch since its conversion from the transportation of natural gas. The system now provides storage capacity of more than ten million barrels: 6,100,000 barrels owned by Texas Eastern and approximately 4,000,000 by shippers. In addition, the system has access to nine terminals in the Chicago area.

To further expand the service and capacity of the system, the Little Big Inch Division is mining the first of several caverns at Todhunter Terminal south of Middletown, Ohio. Mined out of solid rock 350 feet below the surface, the caverns will store LPGas for distribution throughout Southern Ohio and neighboring areas. The capacity of the initial cavern will be 150,000 barrels.

The Little Big Inch Division gives added versatility to Texas Eastern's operations. Its common-carrier pipeline system, one of the nation's largest, provides a dependable, economical means of delivering clean petroleum products—in surplus in the Southwest—to the Midwest where the demand for these products is increasing from year to year.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
Suppose we again turn the pages back to the horse and buggy days for the benefit of you who vividly recall them, and also for benefit of the present generation so that they may more fully appreciate the tremendous improvement in methods of travel.

For instance, buggies were never equipped with lights until in the last days of their use, although carriages, in later years, had two kerosene lamps, one on each side of the front seat.

It is almost unbelievable that buggies, chief mode of travel for several generations, seldom had lights.

Then someone had a brilliant thought, and late buggies were furnished with dash lights which were somewhat better than nothing, for they did give warning to drivers of other vehicles during dark nights, and also illuminated the road for a few yards.

At 'east the old kerosene lamps supplied sufficient light to see the road and keep on it.

Before the last buggies were equipped with lamps, and then usually one which was fastened to the dash board, it was sometimes necessary to attach a lighted lantern to the rear axle of these conveyances during pitch-dark nights.

I recall one night while visiting relatives in the country a few miles east of Washington C. H., it was so dark that objects a few feet distant were invisible, and it was impossible to see the road, fences, telephone poles or trees.

I borrowed a lantern, attached it to the rear axle of the buggy, and was able to keep on the road until I got back to the welcome street lights of the city.

Now we dash over smooth, wide highways at 30 to 60 miles an hour with headlights illuminating the highway for hundreds of yards ahead, in perfect comfort and safety. And we may recall dark nights of years ago when it was necessary in many instances to trust the horse to find its way, keep out of the roadside ditches and prevent collisions with other vehicles.

OLD, OLD AUTO SIGN

Every time I pass the Fred Kelson farm on the south side of U. S. 22, a half mile east of Sabina, and see an old, flat roofed shed standing in the lot northeast of the house, I recall that once one of the best automobile signs of its day was painted across the north side of the building.

As I recall it, the painting was done a half century ago, and showed, full size the latest model of a topless Reo automobile in which a man and woman were seated.

The entire piece of art was in color, and I remember that both occupants of the car were wearing the traditional "dusters" which were a necessary part of automobile equipment in those days. The woman had her wide-rimmed hat tied on with a scarf. The man wore a cap.

Many years after that make of car passed out of existence, the old painting still held forth and attracted widespread attention.

Year after year it faded, until now only part of the dim outline is left.

I have often thought what a wonderful picture that would be if it existed today, showing the old-type car, full size, along with its proud passengers.

SECOND SPRAYING

A short time ago the Pennsylvania Railroad, first in this area to destroy weeds on the right-of-way by fire and then by spraying, sent its spraying outfit over the local branch of the system for the second time this season.

In July the right-of-way was sprayed for weeds. After a second treatment all growth along the road has died, except the weeds and grass inside the rails.

Practically everything on the whole right-of-way was killed, including insects, and possibly other life in addition to weeds and shrubbery.

Fortunately some of the rare wildflowers along the route, like the Virginia Spiderwort and other early blooming flowers, were not injured, as the tops had long since died.

More than 20 years ago the Pennsylvania used a weedburner, burning fuel oil and shooting the flames over the main tracks, sidings and yards, killing most of the weeds.

However it set fire to ties and dry grass and caused so much trouble that the method was abandoned—not, however, until the weedburner caught fire one night while on a siding at Atlanta and was ruined.

Yankees Lose 5, But Old Casey Isn't Worried

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Casey Stengel isn't worried after losing five in a row.
His New York Yankees already have the American League pennant bagged, and with eight days to go before the world series opener in Milwaukee, Stengel has his pitchers back in form.

The champs lost three over the weekend in Baltimore, Friday they lost 5-4 in a five-run ninth inning, Saturday it was 1-0, to Hoyt Wilhelm's no-hitter. Sunday it was 3-2.

But... Whitey Ford, making his second start after a two-week layoff because of arm trouble, blanked the Birds on four hits in his seven innings Friday. Don Larsen, sidelined by arm trouble since Aug. 16, blanked the Birds on one hit for his six innings of work Saturday. And Tom Sturdivant, off the disabled list and working for the first time since Aug. 12, gave up eight hits but only one earned run in his six innings Sunday.

So, Casey has a total of one earned run over 19 innings off Ford, his southpaw ace, and Larsen and Sturdivant, his No. 2 and 3 right-handers behind 21-game winner Bob Turley. Just five days ago, Stengel didn't know if any one of the three would be of any help in the World Series.

Now he has a six-man staff ready. Right-handers Duke Maas and Ryne Duren are the other two.

The Yankees' only problems from now to Milwaukee are to stay healthy (infielders Tony Kubek, Gil McDougald and Andy Carey are okay after minor ills) and to help Turley win his 22nd.

Turley gets his last shot at becoming the Yanks' biggest winner since 1934, when Lefty Gomez won 26, as the champs return to action at Boston tonight.

Only one game was scheduled in the AL Monday. Baltimore defeated Washington 2-0 on Skinny Brown's six-hitter. Bob Nieman's bloop double scored both runs in the third against Russ Kemmerer.

Richie Ashburn has regained the lead from Willie Mays in the National League's tightest race for the batting title since 1954—the year Willie won on the last day of the season.

Ashburn, hitless in three games, swept back into the top spot with a 6-for-10 surge that paid off a two-night doubleheader sweep for Philadelphia over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Phils won the opener 3-2 in 14 innings, then took the nightcap 1-0 as the Bucs swished to a pair of strikeout records.

Ashburn, whose lone bat title came in 1955, picked up five points after going 4-for-4 in the second game for a .343 average. That's .001 ahead of the idle Mays, who stands at .342 after a hot week-end for San Francisco. Mays has five games left, Ashburn four.

Ashburn, 0-for-11 before getting his 20th hit Monday night, scored the lone run of the nightcap in the seventh inning. He beat out a bunt and stole second. Then he flashed all the way home as Pirate second baseman Bill Mazeroski struggled to gain his balance after making a nice stop on Ted Kazanski's infield hit.

Opponents Outgained by Lions In Both Games They Played

While the WHS Lions record stands at one game won and one game lost they have more than doubled the distance of their opposition in yardage gained.

During the first two games they have gained 583 yards with 543 coming on the ground. This is an average of 5.37 yards per carry. For the 11 passes thrown they have averaged 7.6 yards per attempt. The opposition has gained 265 yards during the first two contests.

The leading groundcarrier on the team in Halfback Ronnie Shackelford who has carried 35 times for 280 yards for an average of 8.0 yards per attempt. Tackle Ronnie Carter continued to be the offensive blocker on the team with a 88 per cent figure for the Grove City game. This figure is based on a point system of 1.23 points depending on how good the block is.

Other linemen who topped 70 per cent were Bob Huff, Jim Meyer, Jack Hamilton and Jack Wilson. Chuck Hire topped the backs with an 83 per cent. Buddy Lynch was next with a 68 per cent rating. Of the other high ballcarriers Jerry Sheppard is second with 110 yards on 24 carries. Fullback Gil Crouse has carried 20 times for 91 yards. Quarterback Buddy Lynch has thrown 11 passes with eight completions for 61 yards and no touchdowns. The Lions have been penalized 85 yards with their opposition having been set back 75 yards. Tom Seaman is the leading pass receiver with three caught for 26 yards.

With the third string playing Point Valley Monday night the remainder of the squad went through drills receiving much individual instruction. Tonight the team will spend most of the time on setting up a defense for Hillsboro.

Coach George Greer of the undefeated Tigers replaced five regulars with juniors in the fourth inning when the score was 16-0. In the last three frames, the sub-studied lineup tallied 18 more runs.

The Tigers play at Bowersville Tuesday afternoon and Bloomingburg's Bulldogs are booked for a game at Jeffersonville Thursday afternoon.

The Warriors of Madison Mills have won one and lost one. The lineups, with position, runs and hits:

Braves Pitching Tops Yank Staff

NEW YORK (AP) — Psychologically, physically and statistically, the Milwaukee Braves hold the edge over the New York Yankees in pitching.

Psychologically because Lew Burdette, who ran up 24 scoreless innings while winning three games against New York last year, again will be on the firing line. Manager Fred Haney probably will start right off with him instead of waiting until the second game as he did in 1957.

Physically because Whitey Ford, Don Larsen and Ryne Duren, three of Casey Stengel's most dependable hurlers, have done little to help the Yankee cause in the last couple of months. Ford and Larsen have been plagued by sore arms and Duren came down with a leg injury on top of a beaning.

Statistically because the Braves' Warren Spahn has lost none of his effectiveness, winning 20 or more games for the ninth time. Burdette is having his best year and Bob Rush and Carl Willey filled in exceptionally well for the injured Bob Buhl. Conversely, Bob Turley was the Yanks' only reliable pitcher after Larsen and Ford were sidelined.

Led by Spahn, the major league leader, Milwaukee pitchers have gone the distance 69 times. Yankee mounds have 53 complete games. New York leads in shutouts — 20 to 15. Spahn has 23 complete games while Turley tops the American League champions with 19.

Twenty-two pitchers will be eligible for the World Series which starts in County Stadium, Milwaukee, Wednesday, Oct. 1. Before that 'date Stengel will decide which among right-handers Larsen, Murry Dickson and Tom Sturdivant will be on the sidelines.

Only nine hurlers, however, figure to have anything to say about the outcome. They are Turley (21-7), Ford (14-7), Larsen (8-6) and reliever Duren (6-4) for the Yankees. And Spahn (21-11), Burdette (19-10), Rush (10-6), Willey (9-6) and reliever Don McMahon (7-2) for Milwaukee.

Duke Maas (10-8) of the Yanks has an outside chance for a starting assignment.

Burdette's three victories and one by Spahn enabled Milwaukee to take last year's seven-game set. Ford, Turley and Larsen won for the Yankees.

Groza Starts His 13th Year as Pro

CLEVELAND (AP) — Old Lou Groza is up to his shoulder pads in rookies and sophomores these days.

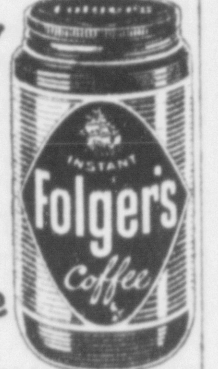

The only original (1946) member of the Cleveland Browns still is kicking field goals and conversions, still playing a bruising game of left tackle.

But as he starts his 13th year of pro football, he stands in marked contrast with a major share of the players on the perennial championship team of the National Football League's eastern division.

WHS Jayvees Win from Paint Valley

The Washington C. H. Junior Varsity toppled the Paint Valley High School varsity squad 22-8 in a game at Gardner Park here Monday after school. The Paint Valley School is in Bainbridge, Ross County.

Paint Valley scored its touchdown on an 80-yard run on the opening offensive play of the game passed for the extra two points. Coach Gene Millard's squad then settled down and held the opposition scoreless the rest of the game.

David Reno scored two touchdowns for the WHS Jayvees, one from seven yards out and the other on a 50-yard run. Larry Striblin scored the other touchdown on a 60-yard run.

Loren Powell, who called a good game at the quarterback position, passed for the two extra points. End Mike James caught both passes.

Standouts on the defensive team were Eddie Lee, Mike Chakares and Benny Garringer. Lee also handled the kickoffs and punting.

The WHS Jayvee lineup:
Line — Helfrich, Wilson, Leverton, Lucas, Gerringer, Pendergraft, Lee, James.

Backs — Powell, Chakares, Reno, Armbrush, Crosswhite, Potter, West, Anders, Stribling.

Thursday the Jayvees will play the eighth and ninth grade team at Gardner Park. The same night the seventh grade team goes to Cedarville for a game.

Red Basketball Team May Make Ohio Appearance

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Tentative plans are being made to bring a Soviet basketball team to this country for a series of games with National Industrial Basketball League (NIBL) players next February.

Jim Banks, public relations man for the NIBL, said today the Soviet team probably will be made up for the most part of players who will be on the 1960 Russian Olympic basketball team. Ten NIBL players who played six games in Russia last spring were received enthusiastically by Soviet basketball fans.

Banks said the plans for bringing the Soviet team will have to be confirmed by the U.S.S.R. The plan calls for a game Feb. 4 in Madison Square Garden against an all star NIBL squad. The rest of the tentative schedule for the Soviet team; Feb. 6 against Peoria at Peoria; Feb. 8 Akron at Cleveland or Canton; Feb. 10 Wichita at Wichita; Feb. 13 Bartlesville, Okla., at Kansas City; Feb. 15 Denver at Denver.

All-Star Bowling Tournament Elimination To Be Rolled Here

Somewhere between 50 and 75 — probably about 60 — of the top flight bowlers of southeastern Ohio will gather at Bowling here Oct. 5 for the second round of the national All-Star Individual Bowling Tournament elimination matches.

Tony Capuana, County Club golf pro in the summer and co-ordinator of bowling activities at Bowling in the winter, made the estimate today after he received the tournament dates from the Southeastern Bowling Proprietors Assn. headquarters at Logan.

The first elimination round of the southeastern district will be rolled on the Buckeye Lanes in Caillien on Sept. 28; the second at Bowling here on Oct. 5; the third at Roller Bowl in Athens on Oct. 12 and the fourth on Military Lanes in Lancaster on Oct. 19.

How many will move on to the finals, Capuana explained, will depend on how many enter the tournament.

THE FINALS will be in Waverly on Oct. 26, Nelsonville on Nov. 2, in Portsmouth on Nov. 9 and in Cambridge on Nov. 16.

The winner of the district tournament will go to Buffalo to compete in a regional tourney and the regional winner will compete for the national title. Capuana said he has not been notified of the date or place of the national tourney.

Scoring will be by the Petersen system — 1 point for every 50 pins and 1 point for a match. Each bowler will roll six games in each of the four elimination rounds and six in each of the four final rounds.

The drawing for opponents in the elimination rounds will be held Friday at Logan. Willard McLean, Andrew Loudner or Capuana probably will be there to represent the Washington C. H. entrants.

The entry fee is $15, the bowling charges $10.80 and expenses $4.20 — a total of $30.

First Call Issued For Celtic Cagers

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Coach Red Auerbach isn't wasting any time getting his Celtics into top condition for the 1958-59 National Basketball Assn. campaign.

He greeted 14 players, including eight returnees from last year's squad, and then conducted a rugged initial workout Monday. Returning from last year's runnups for the NBA championship team were Bob Cousy, Bill Sharman, Tom Heinsohn, Bill Russell, Frank Ramsey, Jim Loscutt, Lou Tsioropoulos and Sam Jones.

Civil Defense Meeting Set for Thursday Night

Survival Project For Fayette County Will Be Studied

"If we're ever going to be prepared, now is the time," C. V. Sexton, Fayette County director of Civil Defense, said today as letters announcing a meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday in Memorial Hall to consider the "Ohio Survival Project" went in the mail.

This project, he explained in the letter, is a "program of mutual aid between Fayette County in the first area of Civil Defense of Ohio in event of nuclear attack of local disaster."

The letter went to county, city, village and township officials, school authorities and Civil Defense personnel, members of the CD mobile support group, a number of civic organizations and law enforcement officers of the county, city and villages.

However, Sexton stressed that "this meeting is open to the public. We would like to see the hall filled."

IN EMPHASIZING that "now is the time" for setting up the Survival Project, Sexton referred to the tense world-wide situation, especially in the Far East, involving Red China and Communist Russia.

Sexton made no attempt to conceal his concern over the apathetic attitude of Fayette Countians toward Civil Defense.

A demonstration team will come here from Cincinnati for the Thursday night meeting to explain just what the Survival Project is and the part Fayette County should take in it.

The demonstration team will have slides and charts to illustrate graphically the functions of the Survival Project.

R. John West Jr., county planning officer for Civil Defense will be at the meeting and Sexton said "we hope an officer from the state attorney general's office will be here too."

THE FIRST AREA — of which Fayette County is a part — takes in 22 counties in southwestern Ohio.

In his letter, Sexton noted significantly that "due to the deteriorating situation between United States and the Communist, particularly between the United States and Red China, it is imperative that Fayette County get organized. If an attack (nuclear bomb) should occur, we would have a problem on our hands feeding and housing several thousand refugees."

At a preliminary meeting, Sexton had pointed out that, in case of attack on the Cincinnati industrial area, as many as 50,000 people might be evacuated to Fayette County, where they would have to be fed and housed.

London To Change Its Street Lights

LONDON — City Council has given its first reading to an ordinance which will clear the road for removal of all London's present ornamental boulevard-type lights and replace them with overhead wire-steel pole lights. It will also increase the annual cost of lighting the city streets from the present $8,662 to a new rate of $10,928.40 per year.

Ohio Edison Co. representatives told Council that renewal of the contract will cost the city $15,324.60 unless the boulevard-type fixtures are removed and the steel pole-overhead wire system is installed.

Hillsboro Bank Buys Accounting Machine

HILLSBORO — The Farmers & Traders National Bank of Hillsboro has purchased a new electronic accounting machine to handle checking account booking. The electronic machine, the first to be ordered in the city, will greatly increase the operating efficiency of the bank and provide quicker and more satisfactory service to customers, bank officials said. It is on display this week.

Greenfield To Receive Hospital Bond Bids

GREENFIELD — The village will receive sealed bids until noon Oct. 15 for the purchase of $200,000 worth of real estate bonds to be issued for construction of an addition to Greenfield Municipal Hospital.

The bond issue was authorized by the electorate in November, 1956.

Dr. Hugh Payton New President Of Heart Council

Plans Outlined For Fund-Raising Next February

A practicing Washington C. H. physician, Dr. Hugh W. Payton, 416 Jupiter St., who maintains offices in Jeffersonville, is the new president of the Fayette County Heart Council.

DR. HUGH W. PAYTON

He succeeds Dr. James E. Rose, 729 Washington Ave., who served the council as president for the past year.

The announcement of Dr. Payton's selection was made today following the council meeting in the Hotel Washington banquet room, at which preliminary plans for next February's campaign for the Heart Fund were outlined.

Mrs. Betty Wilson came here from the Central Ohio Heart Assn. headquarters in Columbus for the council meeting and assisted in the campaign planning.

Mrs. Wilson told the council that $800 had accrued in the fund to be used in Fayette County for volunteer training, literature, medical books on heart disease etc. The group discussed how this could best be used to benefit Fayette County residents.

The next meeting of the Council will be Nov. 11. Plans will be made then to secure new Council members and select other officers to serve with Dr. Payton on the executive board.

Mrs. Joe F. Loudner, 629 Fairway Dr., chairman of the successful 1958 campaign, will continue as a co-chairman of the 1959 campaign. Mrs. Ray Jennings, Leesburg Rd., was rural chairman of the 1958 campaign.

TWO SCIENTISTS, working on a 40-year study of the cause of death of zoo animals, may have discovered a link in the chain of knowledge leading to the cause of arteriosclerosis, the meeting was told.

The four-decade study of birds and mammals which died at the Philadelphia zoo showed the animals have a high frequency of arteriosclerosis, or narrowing of the blood vessels it was said.

Dr. Herbert L. Ratcliffe of the University of Pennsylvania and Dr. T. I. Cronin of the Schering Corp. attributed the arteriosclerosis is not so much to the aging process or diet as they did to "social pressure" resulting from the increased animal population in the zoo.

Many scientists hold that high levels of fat in the diet are linked to the disease. Others have said the aging process was a major factor in the development of arteriosclerosis. Age has been a factor the Philadelphia doctors said, but age alone does not account for all the differences in the incidence of the disease.

This year the Central Ohio Heart Assn. appropriated more than $50,000 for studies of arteriosclerosis in humans, Mrs. Wilson said. Added to this are millions spent by other institutions and the government to find the cause and cure of this disease which annually takes thousands of lives.

Conservation Camp Report Made to Delta Kappa Gamma

Mrs. Mary Foster gave a report on her five weeks of study at the Camp Muskingum Ohio Conservation Laboratory at Monday night's meeting of the Alpha Delta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma in the home of Mrs. Ralph Child.

Mrs. Foster attended this class through a scholarship provided by the Fayette County Fish and Game Assn.

The camp is for Ohio teachers who come from all grade levels. Ninety took part in this summer's course. The professors come from the state universities, with Dr. Carl Johnson of Ohio State University acting as director.

The program is conducted on an informal basis with faculty and students living in the camp dormitories.

LECTURES and field trips provide a "learn to do by doing" method of learning conservation of soil, water, wild life and forests, Mrs. Foster said. Conservation of the natural resources of the state is not a rural responsibility for conservation touches everyone in the state, she declared and added that "it has been said that for every farmer there are 12 urban people looking over the fence."

All counties in the state except one have conservation programs. The conservation of the natural resources was called "the concern of everyone."

These teachers, through their study, start the interest in conservation in their classes in school, Mrs. Foster pointed out. This early interest in preserving the dwindling resources of the state will be of vital importance when these students become adults and must cope with the situation, she said.

Mrs. Versus Angus, program chairman, introduced the speaker and also gave a report on the Delta Kappa Gamma workshop held in Columbus.

Two new officers, Miss Isabelle Reid, treasurer, and Mrs. Dorothy Everhart, corresponding secretary, were installed by Mrs. Child, assisted by Miss Ruth Stecher, who was installed last June as the new president.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Child, Miss Kathleen Davis, Miss Golda Baughn and Dr. Ruth Teeters.

Prisoner Hangs Self In Jail at Hillsboro

GREENFIELD — A prisoner in Highland County jail committed suicide by hanging early Sunday.

Willare E. Stanforth, 50, Route 6, Hillsboro (near Belfast), the father of 10 children, tied a towel around a valve about four and a half feet above the floor, looped it around his neck, and "just sat down" and strangled to death, according to Sheriff Walter Reffitt.

He had been placed in jail Saturday night for driving while his operator's permit was under revocation. He had fought with his wife, Margaret, earlier that night, the sheriff said.

Ross County Home Is To Be Abandoned

CHILLICOTHE — Ross County's Infirmary is to be abandoned — at least temporarily.

County commissioners adopted a resolution calling for abandonment of the three-story (one floor usable) structure north of the Fairgrounds by Jan. 1.

But it was pointed out abandonment might not be permanent. The resolution, adopted unanimously, calls for a complete inventory of the assets of the county home and farm property "together with a report by engineers and architects to determine the advisability of remodeling, rebuilding or abandoning (of the building) within one year."
